This card highlights the advantage that automated testing has: given the test scripts, automated testing is a fast and effective method of finding bugs and issues in a software's code.